Keep up with the trends ... without getting the chop

WITH the new Hairdo hair extensions you can create the opposite effect of hair extensions and shorten your do a la Ms Holmes and Mrs Beckham.

You can now shorten the length of your hair without undergoing the big chop while still adding the same volume, shape and style that long extensions give.

This simple four-step guide means you do not have to cut your hair to try the latest short hair craze and you are left with the option of picking and choosing your style depending on your mood, occasion or even outfit.

The Hairdo clip-in extensions are available in two short sassy lengths, 10 or 15 inch, wavy or straight in the vibrante range or 15 inch in the 100 per cent human hair range in all 15 different shades.

If Jessica Simpson can road test these for six months in front of paparazzi and red carpet events and remain undetected, chances are no one will ever know you are wearing them.

RRP: Hair extensions from $159.95 and human hair extensions for $549
